CLEARFIELD PROGRF

VOLUME XVII

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEARFIELD, PA., SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 3, 1924.

BONUS NOW ROOSTS ON THE STEPS OF THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, May 3 (INS.)—The bonus came back to roost on the White House door step today. Passed by both houses of Congress by overwhelming majorities, and assured of passage again even over a Presidential veto, the controversial issue bid fair this time to be settled once for all. The President will either have to sign it or veto it within ten days else the measure becomes law automatically.

Opinion was badly divided today over the probable course of President Coolidge. Members of Congress who have discussed the situation with him recently have gone away from the White House with directly conflicting views as to what he will do.

Some expressed the view today that Mr. Coolidge, realizing the bill is bound to become law anyway, will either sign it on the theory it is the cheapest bill obtainable from a treasury standpoint, or else will allow it to become law without signature, thus indicating a degree of disapproval. Others were confident that in view of his frequent and often repeated criticism of the bonus "in principle," the President would not hesitate to reject the measure and return it to Congress with a strong message of outright disapproval.

The president's refusal to approve the Bonus pension bill was taken as an indication that he would also veto the new soldiers bonus for World War veterans, which will reach him shortly from Congress.

The Bonus Bill contemplated an expenditure of approximately $400,000,000. A similar measure was vetoed two years ago by President Harding for the same reason which moved President Coolidge—that is, economy. "No condition exists," Mr. Coolidge declared, "which justify the imposition of this additional burden upon the tax payers."

New Grand Jury Will Look Into New Charges Of Prison Inhumanity

Philadelphia, May 3. (INS.)—Additional grave charges of alleged inhuman treatment of convicts in Eastern Penitentiary will be investigated Monday when the May grand jury will be sworn in.

The inquiry will be on recommendation of the April grand jury, which made its final presentation yesterday.

The jury urged an inquiry on a complaint of a convict that he had been attacked by Deputy Warden Herbert Smith, and at the same time hinted that the tunnel dug by two convicts in an effort to escape last November was a myth.

The report follows directly on the heels of the conviction Thursday of Charles Santee, deputy warden, for beating James J. Fraley, a convict.

The investigation by the new grand jury, it is said, will center about a row of 12 cells known in prison vernacular as "Klondyke"—the punishment cells of the prison. These cells are said to be barren of furniture, have no windows and the walls are painted black so that the occupant knows not when it is day and when night.

"Brown Bag" on Bank of River At Binghamton, N. Y., Was Body of Girl

Binghamton, N. Y., May 2. (INS.)—Demands for an investigation were heard today following the discovery of the body of Eleanor Aylesworth, a missing high school girl, in a mud bank on the edge of the Susquehanna river 10 miles below this city.

The body had lain there for at least a month, farmers said, but they did not investigate, because they thought it was a "brown bag."

Eleanor disappeared on February 25.

PENSION BILL VETOED

Washington, May 3 (INS.)—President Coolidge today vetoed the Bonus pension bill, providing increased pensions for veterans of all wars except the world war.

A GLUTTON FOR PUNISHMENT

Elizabeth City, N. C., May 3. —Fired with the idea of becoming a newspaper man after reading articles by a famous editor in a popular monthly, Olaf Larsen, 19-year-old Norwegian boy, walked from Burlington, N. C., to this city, a distance of 188 miles, to obtain a position as reporter on a local newspaper. He got the job.

JAP EXCLUSION MAY ESTRANGE COOLIDGE AND SECT'Y HUGHES

Washington, May 3.—The flat statement at the White House that President Coolidge is in favor of excluding Japanese—as courteously as possible, but still excluding them—and the strong intimation that he will sign the new immigration bill containing the exclusion clause aroused considerable speculation here today as to the status of Secretary of State Hughes.

Outwardly, at least, the President and his Secretary of State are thus disclosed to be on opposite sides of one of the most important questions of foreign policy that has come up in years. Certainly it is the gravest foreign issue that has confronted Mr. Coolidge. Both in writing and orally before committees of Congress, Secretary Hughes has consistently opposed any legislation that would bar the Japanese by statute. Even while the present immigration bill was being written in the House immigration committee, Mr. Hughes sent a letter to Chairman Johnson, urging that Japan be allowed a quota of immigration just as any other country whose nationals are eligible to citizenship. He told members of Congress that if they passed the exclusion act it would undo the work of 20 years' careful diplomacy in the Far East, and would utterly destroy the era of good feeling between this country and Japan that resulted from the Washington arms conference. His opposition to exclusion was strong and unqualified from the start.

There have been frequent reports, indefinite as to source, that should the exclusion ban go through Secretary Hughes would regard it as a repudiation of his policy and would feel constrained to retire as Mr. Coolidge's Secretary of State. Neither the White House nor the State Department has ever seen fit to dignify these persistent reports by a denial, but it is known that Mr. Hughes feels strongly on the point.

Now the White House declaration that the President himself favors exclusion gave re-birth to these rumors today.

At the capitol, the announcement of the President's attitude today was interpreted as:

"Softening the language of the exclusion so as to placate the Japanese feeling as much as possible, and the bill will be signed."

It was on this theory that the conferees resumed their labors today in an effort to adjust the differences between the House and Senate measures. There was every indication that the bill will be before President Coolidge next week, with exclusion date fixed for July 1, next.

Southwestern Operators And Miners Make Peace; 40,000 To Go To Work

Kansas City, Mo., May 2. (INS.)—Peace in the southwestern bituminous coal fields after a month of idleness was scheduled to be signed today by both sides in the wage controversy.

One of the officials who will sign the new wage agreement said the terms virtually had been completed. The terms were not made public, but it is said they will be quite favorable to the miners.

Signing of the contract will mean the return to work of 40,000 coal miners in the soft coal fields of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

The winners in the bridge tournament Club, Thursday evening were: Mrs. Wm. Bigler, Mrs. Harry Kennedy and Mrs. Cecil Wilson.

Mrs. W. E. Phillips spent Thursday with friends at Philipsburg and Osceola.

Misses Elizabeth and Ann Legan left today to spend the week end at their home in Houtzdale.

Round The World Flyers Will Proceed Without Leader, Major Martin

Washington, May 2. (INS.)—The American round the world airplane flight will be continued without the leadership of Major Frederick L. Martin, it was announced at the War Department today.

A telegram was dispatched to Lieut. Lowell Smith, second in command, to proceed with his three planes on the flight from Dutch Harbor, Alaska, whenever he is ready.

The searching parties from Chignik covered all the territory along Portage bay from Chignik lagoon to the heart of Kuiu bay, where they met a crew from one of the coast guard cutters, who had covered the coast line to the westward.

Another party proceeded up the river from Chignik lagoon but was forced to turn back at the first lake on account of ice.

A gas boat which covered the coast line to the westward also returned today without having sighted the missing plane or obtained any trace of the two men who were aboard it when it left Chignik.

Washington, May 3 (INS.)—While no word has been received here of the whereabouts of Major Frederick L. Martin, missing round the world flyer, considerable optimism was expressed at the war department today following a cablegram from Lieut. Lowell Smith, second in command.

Smith cabled the air service that Martin had emergency food rations sufficient to last several weeks, and plenty of matches. Inasmuch as he was following the coast line where there are numerous sheltered coves, officials were inclined to believe he had been forced down and may be found safe. The terrific storm has abated, Smith said.

YOUTHFUL SISTERS MARRIED CRIPPLES AND RESENT INTERFERENCE WITH EASY LIVING THEIR BEGGING AFFORDS THEM

Chicago, May 3. (INS.)—Investigation by the authorities was to be made today of the circumstances under which two girls in their teens, Margaret Helberg, 17, and her sister, Hattie, 15, were married to street beggars, one of them with paralysis and shriveled legs, the other with no legs at all.

That the seeming paupers earn thousands in the course of a year and that both the brides and their parents appear satisfied with the marriage is not taken into consideration by those who are asking the investigation.

According to the story, the sisters were told by their mother, Mrs. Edna Helberg, wife of a painter, that the three-room cottage which was their home was entirely too small for a family of 16 and that they should seek husbands and homes elsewhere.

FIND MUTILATED BODY ON STREETS OF LORAIN, OHIO

Lorain, O., May 3. (INS.)—His head partly severed from his body, his legs hanging by slender threads of flesh, the body of an unidentified man was found on the streets in a residence section here today.

Police believe that the man had been murdered a while before and that an effort was being made to dispose of the body by hacking it to pieces.

HOOVER PREDICTS TROUBLE IN ETHER WAVES IN 5 YEARS

All Broadcasters Should Take Steps To Clear Up Duplicating Wave Lengths Says Hoover.

IS NOW A BEDLAM

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
N. Y. Staff Correspondent

Washington, May 2.—The value and efficiency of the estimated $5,000,000 radio receiving sets in the United States is menaced unless broadcasters reach a new voluntary agreement to check interference.

This was learned from Secretary of Commerce Hoover today who announced that regardless of passage or rejection of radio bills before Congress, he will call a radio conference within the next few months.

Broadcasters, Manufacturers, scientists, government radio experts and amateurs will be asked to assemble in Washington for a third national conference to perfect voluntary regulations and eliminate situations that Congressional legislation cannot reach.

Secretary Hoover said that he would await action of Congress on radio legislation in order to determine the steps regarded as necessary to save what has become among the greatest of American pastimes.

What the situation will be five years from now Hoover admitted was a serious problem which he would not attempt to anticipate.

Practically all available wave lengths that will serve the average commercial receiving set have been distributed to broadcasters.

Farmer, 24, whom she had noticed daily on a street corner, seated on a tiny board upon wheels, proffering pencils and chewing gum to passersby and asking alms. He accepted and despite his physical handicap, passed the censorship of Mrs. Helberg. Then it was that he revealed that far from being a pauper, he averaged about $150 a week from the charitable.

Following his marriage to Margaret, he introduced Hattie to another beggar, an Indian, in even more pitiable condition, for Cheenah Kichei, 34 was paralyzed from the waist down and his naked legs, exhibited to the public gaze, and his decrepit clothing made him indeed a seemingly deserving object of charity.

Kichei and Hattie were married soon afterwards. He was said to earn even more than Farmer, his daily receipts averaging more than $50.

Western Governors May Hold A Conference On Hoof And Mouth Disease

Washington, May 3 (INS.)—A conference of Western Governors was under consideration today by the Department of Agriculture as a step toward eradication of the hoof and mouth disease now prevalent in Pacific coast states. The conference probably will be held in one of the mountain states and plans will be considered for lifting all embargoes which taking additional precautions to prevent spread of the disease.

The department was urged to call Governor's conference by western Senators, who cautioned on the situation.

Miss Winifred Nolan, who has been seriously ill at her home on S. Third street, is now rapidly improving.

Miss Kathryn Duckett has accepted a position in the Second street Workman's store.

McQuillin and Raymond Wille of Pittsburgh, were circulating among their many friends here this week.

Mrs. Robert Morgan and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Florence Morgan were shoppers from Glen Richey yesterday.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for May 4
ASSYRIAN EXILE OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 17:1-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I will delight myself in Thy statutes: I will not forget Thy word."—Ps. 119:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How a Little Girl Helped a Great Soldier.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Israel Driven Into Exile.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Nation Punished for Its Sin.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Lessons From Israel's Downfall.

I. Israel Taken Into Captivity (vv. 1-6).

This was in fulfillment of that which Amos had predicted in the days of Jeroboam II at a time when the nation was at the height of its prosperity. The northern kingdom was ruled by wicked kings, all of whom were guilty of lack of information or opportunity but in spite of it. God promised the first king His blessing if he would be loyal to Him. Jeroboam departed from God and the apostasy thus began continued downward to the end. In the reign of Hoshea, the last king, the king of Assyria came and besieged Samaria and carried the children of Israel captive to Assyria, from which they never returned.

II. The Sin Which Caused Their Doom (vv. 7-18).

1. Conformed to the Ways of the Heathen (vv. 7-9). God had commanded them not to follow in the ways of the heathen, but these Israelites, instead of maintaining lives of separation, secretly did that which was displeasing to God. Secret sins, as surely as open sins, bring ruin, for all things are naked and open to Him with whom we have to do. The One who visits judgment upon the sinner knows all things.

2. Set Up Idols (vv. 10-17). They not only compromised by walking in the ways of the heathen, but were worst of all, they set up idols. It was a short step from following in the statutes of the heathen to worshiping their gods. Before they were idols they cast off the true God. The idolatry came into the nation because the race did not wish to retain God in its affections (Romans 1:23). Idolatry did not come in through ignorance but through wilful perversion. People today worshiping false gods have first cast off the authority of the living God. Man is a religious being. When he ceases to worship the true God he worships other gods.

3. They Were Rebellious (vv. 18-15). God by His prophets has said unto them: Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments; but they stubbornly refused His testimony, even rejected His statutes. God in His love tried to save them. He sent some of the noblest and best prophets who ever spoke to men to persuade them to turn from their evil ways such as Elijah and Elisha, but they stiffened their hearts and plunged deeper into their wickedness. This they did in defiance of God.

4. Cursed Their Sons and Daughters to Pass Through Fire (v. 17). This was the dreadful Molech worship, the most cruel rite of heathen worship. It was done by kindling a fire in a hollow metal image until its arms were raised, and placing the children there, and burning them to death. This was a heathen rite to which the Israelites had been taught.

5. Resorted to Magical Practices (v. 17). When faith in the true God was gone, men always turn to the magical. In this way the Israelites sold themselves to evil in the sight of the Lord and provoked Him to anger.

III. The Judgment Falls (v. 18).

At this stage of the drama the curtain dropped. God could not be inactive longer.

1. God Was Very Angry. His anger is not raving fury but the revulsion of His holy nature against sin. God cannot tolerate sin in His presence. His wrath must strike. Though He waits long, the debt must be paid and that always with compound interest. There is only one way to escape God's wrath that is to turn from sin unto God through Jesus Christ.

2. Remove Them Out of His Sight. The land of Palestine is regarded as the land of God's sight—that is, the place of His manifested presence. These people are still scattered among the nations and as a political organization they will never return to their land. The judgment was severe, but not more so than the sins merited. God had waited long. The deepening of His grace eventually works ruin. Therefore, what judgment must fall upon the people who in the light of this day reject His grace and His mercy.

Practical Christianity
"Go," never spells "Stay." We need more religion in the go-to, as well as in the stay—a walking as well as a talking religion. The trouble is not so much with non-church-going masses, as the non-going church. We need not only a lookout committee but a "Go-out" committee.—H. G. Gibboud.

A Christian is one who follows Christ, but is a leader of men.—Christian Herald.

6:00 Sermon by the pastor, subject the 1st of a series of four sermons on the 12th chapter of the Book of Romans as the foundation of true Klanishness. Those who only go to church when they think the Catholics are to be blacked need not attend these services as there will not be any knock from that cylinder of the U. B. machine as we are not after the Catholic but after slumbering protestants. We are not fighting any church, but sin and all sin looks alike to the U. B. pastor whether it be in the church or out of the church, and a sinner unsaved is a rebel in the sight of God whether he be in the Protestant church or in the Catholic church or on the outside altogether. We only desire to be fair to all concerned. Come and hear this series of sermons and be convinced that we stand for christianity where ever practiced and an enemy of sin in whatsoever form it may present itself and be practiced.
Everybody welcome.

IRRESPONSIBLE RULERS

A good many Americans must have rubbed their eyes incredulously as they read the chorus of praise which went up for Charles F. Murphy after his death, and the complimentary eulogies said of Tammany Hall, which he controlled for so many years.

The wonder is natural. It is necessary, in a case like this, to analyze the thing. Murphy has been praised because he possessed many real virtues, as a man and leader, and often used his power for a good purpose. Kind words have been spoken of Tammany, even by its enemies, because under Murphy it has improved considerably, being not only a human institution, as it always was, but a more honest institution than it used to be. Murphy seldom tolerated graft, at least of any direct and flagrant sort, and in his later years often placed excellent and able men in office.

It is well, however, not to let such considerations blind any one to the essential evil involved in the career of even the least corrupt man running alone over a powerful political organization. Bossism is none the less vicious in itself because a particular boss may at times perform genuine public service. As the New York World has well said, "The evil of that system is not in the character of the boss but in the fact that the party machine was dominated by a man who never had to face the test of popular election."

Irresponsible power is always bad, for this very reason. Government is no longer free when candidates and policies are determined by political masters who hold no public office, possess no public credentials. If there are to be political elections, they should be selected by free, open choice of the people and rotated likewise when the people cease to want them.

STEEL OPTIMISM

Long and business weather news when the "Steel Trust" paid as the most dependable barometer of trade, pays once more a quarterly common stock dividend of 7 per cent a year. Such good income on stock which originally cost nothing, representing merely the capitalization of a big idea.

And, too, that the big corporation, in justification of its dividend, has reported $50,000,000 profits for the first months of the year, which is more than it ever made in the quarter except during the war.

Business has fallen off a little lately. Chairman Gary admits it is not worrying. There are still large orders on the books and he expects any temporary dullness to be made up by the time will be better "around election time", he says.

Another significant sign of confidence—business is continuing to spend about $7,000,000 a month on new plants and improvements, in order to handle future business effectively.

their feet, thereby making walking difficult but impressive.

This precious space in this paper is not taken with a view to urging the substitution of tin cans for shoes. But if it serves to remind us that there are joys of invention and adventure, joys dependent upon experiment and most of all upon individual effort which are free to the penniless, it will have been well used.

Just the next day, I saw two other little boys strolling listlessly over the velvet lawns of their millionaire father. One gardener trotted ahead gently with a gorgeous red paper kite and another appeared with a small cart.

As soon as the kite was well launched, the heir to millions held the line. Once in a while he walked a few steps to watch it move, or played out a little more line. But it was all a rather solemn undertaking.

Shades of the past, when frocks were torn and tempers lost scrambling over fences, stripes caught in berry patches, all to get the flimsy home-made thing aloft!

More of joy and sorrow was crowded into five minutes of kite flying than that small son of millions could ever learn from his patient friend the gardener, who was robbing kite flying of all its difficulties and all its triumphs.

The rag-a-muffs with their magic tin shoes rescued from the ash-heap had more ecstasy on their grimy little faces than the poor little rich boy could discover in years of his well shielded life.

How hard we work, some of us, to get a little fun out of life.

And how do we do it? Most of us by working over our possessions, fussing and fuming over the tangle between silk and chintzes for the overdresses, the three-piece suit or the tailored dress for our spring outfit, or the fact that Avenue A is a little smaller than Avenue B.

We have, most of us, too much, instead of not enough, and yet we constantly work for more.

"Blessed be nothing," was the unspoken message of those two young adventurers who clumped down the street the other day, having the time of their lives with a few tin cans which had been put to wholly new and different uses.

RECITAL-MUSICAL

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church, Curwensville, is giving a recital-musical in the church next Thursday evening, May 8th. Unusual interest attaches to this entertainment because the reader of the evening will be Mrs. Helen D. Bergerstock of York, Pa., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Daugherty of this place. Mrs. Bergerstock has studied under Madam Von Gones, one of the most famous readers and teachers in New York City, for several years, and

A STATEMENT

BY

Dr. LEVER STEWART.

"I have tendered my resignation as surgeon to the Clearfield Hospital to take effect immediately. In taking this action I have respectfully requested the privilege of watching over the patients I now have in the Hospital until such time as they will be able to leave.

"My reasons for tendering my resignation are so fundamental relating to Hospital management, in which the medical profession, nurses and the public are interested, that a statement of such reasons is necessary in justice to all interests, and I give same as follows:

"On Friday afternoon, April 25th, I requested the service of the operating room to operate on a man named Bock who was desperately ill. In the course of the day I was notified that the operating room would be made available for my service to my patient and the hour was set for four o'clock. After I had instructed the anesthetist to start the anesthesia on my patient and after I was washed up prepared to operate, the chief operating room nurse then present in the operating room, refused to give any assistance requested by me. Upon this refusal to assist, I told her that she was of no use to me in the operating room and that I preferred her leaving. Whereupon she left the operating room accompanied by the other two nurses. They first removed their gowns and gloves. This left me with no assistance to complete my operation on a desperately ill man. There seemed to be no alternative and I undertook the operation with the aid of no one excepting the hospital anesthetist who was concerned solely with the anesthesia. The man was in a desperate condition and the fact that he was under anesthesia gave me no alternative. After the operation was practically completed the two last named nurses returned to the operating room and offered their assistance. I later learned that they had been sent back by the Superintendent. This criminal disregard of a stricken man resulted in untold harm to him. Today his condition is most serious, and I cannot assume the responsibility for his condition as a result of the crisis which occurred.

"Second, about two months ago I entered the hospital about 10:30 in the evening for my rounds and found two patients lying in darkness with the bed clothing smeared with blood, which came from their lungs and no nurse within calling distance. When the acting night superintendent was found I inquired for a third patient whom she told me was quite all right, but whom on inspection I found to be in a desperate condition, with bed clothing bespattered and smeared with blood. I inquired of the Superintendent where the nurse in charge was. She told me on the floor below. I told her these patients were being neglected. She replied that the nurse could not be two places at once. I told her I did not care a 'dam' about that, but insisted that my patients be given attention. The night superintendent disappeared. I then called the hospital superintendent to send help to the ward immediately. In the meantime I administered to these helpless men myself. I waited with these patients for over one-half hour during which time I made repeated efforts to find the acting night superintendent. I finally found a student nurse who undertook the further care of these men. Two of the men died. The one probably would have died without any attention, but he was denied comfort and care in his last hours. The second man, named Stevens, probably contracted his condition as a result of negligence in leaving a draft blow on him, in spite of repeated instructions to the contrary. Discounting the cause of this man's condition, his death was assured by the neglect during the most critical period of his illness. This deplorable occurrence has caused me untold worry and I have been troubled ever since with the problem of frankly telling his family of the circumstances leading up to his death.

"Third, at the present time I have in the male surgical ward of the Clearfield Hospital a man named Marks who suffers with a compound fracture of his leg. By the placing of proper apparatus, including extension by weights, I succeeded in putting and holding this fracture in perfect position, which was confirmed by X-Rays. Some time after this while inspecting this man's dressing, I noticed that some one had placed the weights holding the leg on the bed where they did no good. This permitted the fracture to go out of position and I have never been able to get it fully reduced again. I cannot take responsibility for this. My investigation of this occurrence was fruitless. The nurse in charge knew nothing about it, and I found nothing but indifference to the occurrence.

"The three instances indicate a general condition which has existed for quite some time, culminating in the operating room incident. The situation left me with no alternative but to place the matter before the hospital management, with a request that proper disciplinary measures be applied. The Board of Directors have refused to take such action in the case, and the Superintendent of the hospital and the President of the Board of Directors of the hospital has suggested to me that I have been too exacting, rigid and inconsiderate in demands upon the nurses. With all due respect for the gentlemen in charge of the hospital, they do not appreciate that the issues involved for patients in the operating room of a hospital are so important and to be determined in such a brief space of time, that efficient and instant obedience on the part of all attendants is imperative and correction of delinquencies must often be abrupt and severe. Life is most precious. Hospitals are established to conserve life. They are not established for the benefit of doctors or nurses. The prime consideration is your patient, and no one should be spared, when neglect and excusable mistakes have occurred. But we have here an absolute walk-out of all the nurses in an operating room, with a patient desperately ill lying upon the table under an anesthetic.

"The record of the management to take prompt action against such conduct makes my position in the hospital untenable, and leaves me but the one course of resignation.

"It has been urged upon me in an effort to induce me to compromise the questions involved, that I should have in mind the interests of the community in my services, and also the interest of the public in the hospital. My personal interest is not to be compared with that of the public's, but so far as I am concerned, I have made arrangements with Dr. Lewis C. Rowles for the use of his private hospital, and upon inspection I find it to be excellently equipped in every respect, and my present and future patients will be advised that my service in the Rowles hospital will continue to be at their command, with the assurance that none but competent and conscientious assistants will be retained in connection with the surgical work, and subsequent care of patients who entrust themselves to such treatment. The public interest, I am very well satisfied will be observed by the focusing of attention upon the questions of management at the Clearfield Hospital, and will result in correction and improvement. A compromise of my position and a different course by me would merely mean a continuance of conditions which ought not to be tolerated.

"I am making this statement in order to explain and justify to my patients and friends my action in resigning from the Clearfield Hospital staff."

has given recitals in Washington, D. C. and many other places.

This entertainment will also consist of pipe organ music and vocal numbers by the best talent in Curwensville, among whom will be Mrs. C. E. Doverspike, the Rhodes sisters, and the J. D. Haines male chorus. This affair is going to be one of the most delightful entertainments Curwensville people have been fortunate enough to enjoy in many a day, and the M. E. Church should be crowded for it on next Thursday night. The recital-musical will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Profit to the Buyer

It Is Bound Up in the Finer Quality of Hupmobile Parts

Hupmobile could not use materials less fine—and still be Hupmobile.

For the very heart and soul of Hupmobile success is the way it stands up—year after year—at astonishing low cost.

Let it try to cheapen any of its finely built parts and it would at once lose that superiority. So in the end, it would not profit the buyer.

The motor car question, as we see it, comes down to this.

The buyer can pay the Hupmobile price, safe in the assurance that a higher price cannot bring him anything higher than the Hupmobile in honest quality. Or, he can pay less and content himself with less than Hupmobile quality and satisfaction.

It will cost you nothing but the time you put in, to come in and see Hupmobile quality with your own eyes, as shown by our Parts Display.

Good deal of surmizing talk now as to how that huge block of stone, quarried near the Kester farm, and to be used as a base for the soldiers' monument, is to be gotten out to the road and conveyed to town. It is said that the rock will weigh more than ten tons. It is a query what sort of a contrivance can be made by which the stone can be brought to the school lawn where the tablet is to be erected.

The American Legion boys are working on an appropriate Memorial Day program. So far it has been determined to carry out as near as possible the lines as last year; the school children decorating in the forenoon and main service afternoon. A speaker from abroad will be secured if possible to make the principal address.

A number of Clearfield Odd Fellows paid a fraternal visit to Curwensville lodge last evening.

An enthusiastic meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Opera House block by those interested in the organization and institution of the Curwensville State Bank. About seventy-five men were present, coming from nearly every town in this section. A full corps of officers and directors were duly elected, as follows: President, H. J. Thompson; Vice President, I. B. Norris; Cashier, D. C. Griffith. The board of directors will be composed of the following named gentlemen: A. Z. Wolf, Sr.; L. C. Norris; C. O. Norris; I. B. Norris; H. J. Thompson; C. C. WHAT a difference a few moments work with the scrub brush or a few dabs of the paint brush, make in the appearance of our homes, our factories and our public buildings. Truly, there are few things in life more satisfying than a home free from stain or blemish, with windows glistening, and walls beaming with the brilliancy of new paint.

THERE is no better time than next week, set aside by the Board of Health, to Clean Up and Paint Up your premises. Start your Clean Up campaigning at home and then carry it to your place of business. Let's all get together to make Clearfield the cleanest spot on earth. The merchandise listed below will be just what you want to do your part in the Clean Up.

ECQUE Ready Mixed Paints

These come in many colors and in gallon cans. All ready mixed and then waiting for you.

One Half Pint, Quart, Half-Gallon, Pints, Gallons

CARBOLA The New Wallcovering Better Than Whitewash

CARBOLA is a perfect insecticide. It kills with water and dries hard, the paint will not crack off as does whitewash. Can be applied with spray or brush.

GALVANIZED IRON GARBAGE CANS

We have these with and without handles. Galvanizing is extra heavy to resist rust and will stand a lot of knocking around. Watertight. Have the size you'll need.

Extra Clean-Up Week Paint Special

This is a nationally advertised paint but as we are discontinuing the life we are going to make this a special for next week. Not many colors. Selling these cheap enough to use for priming coats.

Sizes from 1-pint to gallon cans. Specially priced at $2.00 and $2.50 Per Gallon.

ALL SORTS OF BRUSHES

We have everything that you will need in the way of brushes. From the small brush for the small job to the big mogul whitewash brush, we have them all ready for you.

FLAT WALL TINTS

We have these from the soft grays to the tints of brighter hue. These make an ideal wall finish especially where there are many little hands to spot the walls. Can be cleaned with wet cloth.

MORALASTIC FLOOR FINISHES

After you have done the outside give thought to your floors. We have these MORALASTIC Floor Finishes which will renew the looks of the old floor and give it many years more of life.

FLOOR STAINS

Here you have the materials to change the looks of any floor in the house. We have Oak, Cherry, Mahogany, Walnut, and all have a bright varnish finish.

We Feature Valspar Varnishes

We know that VALSPAR VARNISHES are the best of their kind. We have them in all colors and in various sized cans to meet your needs.

Square and Round Point SHOVELS

We have these steel bladed shovels in D-handles and long handles.

VALSPAR ENAMELS

Here is the enamel which will not crack. Properly applied VALSPAR ENAMELS make a covering as hard as cement and the finish is so easily kept clean that it pays well for the slight additional expense. Many colors and sizes of can.

Linseed Oil, Turpentine, Paint and Varnish Remover, Putty, Shellac, Sandpaper, Putty Knives, Dust Brushes, Graining Tools, Extension Ladders, Step Ladders.

LAWN RAKES

We have rakes of all kinds. Rakes for your lawn. Rakes for all the general hard work to which a rake is put during clean-up.

GARDEN HOES

You might need these during the clean-up but you can get one now and use it in the garden later on. Steel blades. Strong handles. Heads riveted on to handles.

GARDEN HOSE

We have it in canvas covered rubber and all-rubber. Three sizes, 1/2-inch, 3/4-inch and 1-inch sizes. Hose reels, too, for the proper keeping of your hose. Steel and wood.

PISTOL GRIP NOZZLE

The nozzle that will save water bills as you can shut off the water at will.

SPADING FORKS

You'll probably want to start a little garden—flowers or vegetables. You'll need a fork. We have them. Long or short handles.

WIRE SALAMANDERS

Just the thing to which to turn your rubbish. Does away with the possibility of the burning rubbish flying out in the wind and starting a conflagration.

CHICKEN WIRE

A little investment in chicken wire may save a lot of trouble and with wire on your premises you can keep breaking, next week will be a good time to renew it. We have it in 12 and 24 inch.

White Wash Brushes

Mops, Scrub Brushes, Heavy Duty Brooms, House Brooms, Garden Trwels, Handy Household Tools, Pruning Shears, Pruning Hooks, Hedge Shears, Lawn Grass Seed, More Crop, an odorless fertilizer.

ROBINSON CLAY PRODUCTS WIN AND LOSE THREE

The Y-Indus Bowling League in the second week of the tournament has set a high pace in bowling circles. The Robinson Clay Products after taking the Amicitie into camp for three straight, were in turn overwhelmed by the swift rolling Mechanics Thursday night. The clay men improved their total by 8 pins in the second contest but were unable to come near the steam rolling tactics of the "soft collar" bowlers. Incidentally the Mechanics set a pace for the high total for the tournament with 2350. Cy Williams started out like a house afire in the first game with five strikes in a row, first game 219, and grand total of 522.

The Garage Men will cross with the Mechanics for supremacy of the bowling game on Saturday night at 7:30. The scores:

Cotton Brokers Present A Valuable Business To Their Faithful Employees

New York, May 2 (INS.)—"In recognition of faithful service," Harris Irbly and Voes, members of the New York and New Orleans Cotton Exchange and Associate members of the Liverpool Cotton Exchange, will on July 31, turn over their entire spot cotton business to executives and employees of that department it was announced today.

The gift to the employees in the opinion of Wall Street traders, is worth several hundreds of thousands of dollars in potential profits.

For the first year Harris, Irbly and Voes will give the employees financial backing and always the firm will give its moral support and good will. After awarding the men, it is the firm's intention to hereafter deal exclusively in futures.

Harris, Irbly and Voes is one of the largest factors in the cotton trade in the United States dealing in thousands of bales of spot cotton annually.

Richard T. Harris, one of the five brothers who are members of the firm said it had been the practice of the firm to give its employees a certain percentage of the profits each year in addition to their salaries. He said the firm now desired to reward those most actively responsible for the firm's present position in the spot cotton field.

The firm's business in cotton futures, it is said has grown so rapidly as to justify its withdrawal from the spot cotton business.

We Can Trust the Firm.
A scientist says that, within a few years, we should be able to talk with the movie theaters and see latest films without leaving our homes. But the thing will hardly seem real without the man behind it read the sub-titles.—Marion Star

DAUGHTER BORN TO THE TUCKERS

Jersey City, N. J., May 3. (INS.)—County authorities were informed today that a daughter, Violet, had been born to Mrs. Susan Simpson Tucker, 47, formerly of South Essex, Mass., who caused a sensation a year ago by her marriage to 17-year-old Burton Tucker, a Massachusetts youth.

The Tuckers are under indictment in Hudson county for alleged perjury in connection with issuance of their marriage license.

Assistant Prosecutor McMahon said the case would not be dropped but might be delayed, in view of the latest developments.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Philadelphia, May 3 (INS.)—John M. Scott, former State Senator, will take the oath of office June 2, as Prothonotary of the Common Pleas and Municipal courts. Scott was elected by the Board of Judges to succeed the late Norris Barratt, formerly a common pleas judge.

Philadelphia—Edward Wobensmith, 14, who by his labors keeps together a family of six beside himself, a paralytic father and a mother has been awarded a medal—as the boy most worthy in the entire city. With the citation went a purse of $200. Philadelphia—Looking himself in a bathroom and stepping into the tub which he had previously filled, Wm. Hartman, 60, last night committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He left a note, saying he wished to end it all.

Beaver, Pa.—Though the damage was slight from a fire in the tower of the Beaver county jail here yesterday all prisoners are still locked in their cells today to keep them under restraint. The ringing of the fire alarm brought the prisoners almost into a panic and it took several hours before guards could quiet them.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 3. (INS.)—Auditor General Samuel S. Lewis today appointed A. Nevin Detrich, former director of State publications as chief of the bureau of corporations. Detrich succeeds to the vacancy caused by the promotion of Charles A. Waters, Philadelphia, to a special deputy auditor general.

SO LONG, BILL, AND GOOD LUCK

William P. Alderdice, Mrs. Alderdice and son William will leave here tomorrow to return to Pittsburgh, where they will make their future home following the sale of the Pig & Whistle Shop. The Alderdice family have made a host of friends here and a genuine regret that their friends see them leave. Alderdice, who regrets too and in order to keep in touch with the old town he will retain his Legion membership here and hopes to return for the Fourth of July. He wishes The Progress to express an appreciation of the fine support given his business.

Youthful Sisters

The wives take their husbands to work each day in a taxicab, station them on street corners and visit them every half hour to relieve them of their money, lest they be arrested with too much on them. Five hours constitute a day's work.

"We're perfectly happy," declared young Mrs. Farmer today. "We give my mother $10 a week to help with the other kids but most of our money is being saved to buy a bungalow. I don't see why any one wants to stifle their nose into our business."

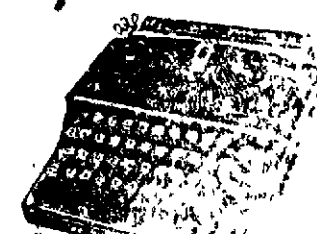

Her sister expressed similar views. Miss Lena Turner, accident victim of Wedge day night, spent a comfortable night and is now on the road to recovery.

Spoiled the Dinner

An unexpected visit of some natives threw a North side home a flurry in an attempt to produce a very tempting dinner for the guests. As the call for dinner the smallest member of the family to the dining room and see chicken, which was the crown of the feast, broke out with mother, is that the chicken? the broken leg?—Columbian.

THROUGH FLOOD AND FIRE!

The old Sarah Jane was rotted with age. Her boilers were rusted and weak. For years she had laid at her moorings, the pride of her owner and chief. Captain Hammond told tales of her wonderful deeds, with no thought of firing her boilers again or piloting her down the stream.

The day of stern wheelers had passed and gone and Cranberry Corners was sleeping and slow dreaming of a land boom to come.

The spring freshest came and with them a flood. The dike burst at Spinkville and Main street was afloat with hundreds in danger of drowning.

It was then that old Cap Hammond declared that the Sarah Jane should make one more trip to rescue his townsmen who had heard of her deeds.

She chugged and she puffed. Her paddle wheels turned. She came to the rescue, and then she burned. Her old boilers exploded under the strain.
